

Graduate Program in Quantitative Biomedicine
Institute for Quantitative Biomedicine at Rutgers
Center for Integrative Proteomics Research
174 Frelinghuysen Rd. • Piscataway • New Jersey
08854-8076
Telephone: (848) 445-8377
Website: iqb.rutgers.edu

ANNUAL RESEARCH ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETING

Student's Name _____ Mentor _____

Date of Research Committee Meeting _____, 20____

Progress of Thesis: Satisfactory Unsatisfactory

Work ethic: Satisfactory Needs Improvement

Scientific curiosity: Satisfactory Needs Improvement

Ability to think independently: Satisfactory Needs Improvement

Laboratory skills: Satisfactory Needs Improvement

Communication skills: Satisfactory Needs Improvement

Are experiments well designed and generating or likely to generate useful data that will contribute to an acceptable thesis?

Are there significant technical or other problems that might interfere with the student's progress over the next year?

Has the student applied for any pre-doctoral awards or fellowships?

Has the student published papers and/or is the work likely to lead to first author publications?

Has the student presented at any scientific meetings?

What are the student's plans after graduate school?

Comments of student (optional):

Institute for Quantitative Biomedicine

Graduate Program in Quantitative Biomedicine
Institute for Quantitative Biomedicine at Rutgers
Center for Integrative Proteomics Research
174 Frelinghuysen Rd. • Piscataway • New Jersey
08854-8076
Telephone: (848) 445-8377
Website: iqb.rutgers.edu

Recommendations of the committee:

Research goals to be met before next committee meeting:

Committee Member Names (please print)

Signatures

Concur

Dissent

Advisor: _____

Student Signature

Anticipated thesis defense date

Graduate Program Director Signature

Please return signed form to Gail Ferstandig Arnold in Proteomics room 105.